

10 BEST WRITER'S LINKS

Write On!

As promised, here are 10 of my many favorite links to inspire writers

by Jarm Del Boccio

1

STRUCTURING YOUR NOVEL

K.M.Weiland is a master at structuring. You can benefit by her expertise by subscribing to her blog here for helpful tips: <http://www.helpingwritersbecomeauthors.com/secret-s-story-structure-complete-series/>

2

PICTURE BOOK MAGIC CLASS

Susanna leads you effortlessly through creation of a picture book , and at a surprisingly low price. And you will have fun in the process! <https://susannahill.com/for-writers/making-picture-book-magic/>

3

ONE STOP FOR WRITERS

You will be amazed at this new website. Truly a writer's goldmine! <http://writershelpingwriters.net/2015/10/the-one-stop-for-writers-library-is-now-open/>

4

USELETTER BY AMY ANDREWS

Tons of helpful advice and links, no matter where you are on the journey: <http://amylynnandrews.com/useletter/>

5

12X12

Want to be part of a fabulous group of writers, as you grow and are challenged in your craft? Check it out: <http://12x12challenge.com>

6

STORYSTORM

Are you running out of story ideas? No worries! Join this fun group each January, and watch your ideas multiply! <https://taralazar.com/storystorm>

7

29 PLOT TEMPLATES

Having trouble plotting your story? These will help organize your thinking: <http://www.darcypattison.com/plot/29-plot-templates/>

8

MANUSCRIPT WISH LIST

Have you done your best to polish that manuscript? Ready to find it a home? Discover what agents are looking for: if its a good fit, submit! <http://manuscriptwishlist.com>

9

BOOK MARKETING FOR AUTHORS

Chris Syme is a book marketing expert who generously offers her time and affordable classes to help authors navigate the sometimes overwhelming task of promotion. <https://cksyme.com>

10

SIMPLEMIND

Puzzled about how to organize all the twists and turns of your story? Here is a topnotch app to help you: <http://www.simpleapps.eu/simplemind/>

